

CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING MAJOR
GENERAL WOOL.

MILITARY EXERCISES. He spent two hours with the little and big children, and expressed himself very much pleased with them. The lady managers of the Home were writing, together with Rev. Thomas Galland, who was Major Anderson forward and ordered his wife to move—the lady who had been ordered in keeping the Mrs. Devos together through every difficulty—The interesting Mr. Anderson to all present. The exercises commenced with Cornelia Shagru, a few looking old, ten years of age, waving her welcome in the name of all to the school teachers, Rev. Thomas Galland's intentions from the language all that was said. Various exercises were gone through, and all gave much credit to the managers and teachers, and with which the Major was much pleased, but especially with one little girl, who recited such much spirit the poem written by Rev. Dr. Beidmore, "God Save Our Nation!" Two or three little girls, who wrote their names down at different compositions expressing their joy at meeting the gallant Major. Her shock hairdressed all and kissed several of the little girls. We noticed how she put her hands around the boys' heads as he held them up. In the same way she left the grounds the children all went home drawn toward a large bar-netticle, which was placed in a conspicuous position. He informed it was of no concern the same lawn on the lot. On leaving he at the City Hall. Mrs. Devos is a descendant of Benjamin Franklin, who married Cotton Mather's daughter. His great grandfather bought it, at the close of the Revolutionary war, from General Sullivan, it having been used for seven or eight years in the war, and has been in constant use ever since, and looks strong enough to last a few hundred years more. It is the same lawn on the ground the children all put their handkerchiefs, though some cheerfully given, they made noise enough by stamping their feet in the large piazza.

The following have yet been received from Washington by Major Anderson:

THE WAR CRY FROM OLD TAMMANY.

THE BRATES ENROL THEMSELVES INTO A JACKSON GUARD.

The pipe of peace has been buried and the tomahawk unearthed by the patriotic warriors of Tammany Hall, according to the call of the country for volunteers to preserve the Union, the sachems, sagamores, weaklings and savages generally, big and little, of the great wigwags, have rushed to arms, and are determined to contribute muscle and money to support government. The Tumany regiment is to be called the Jackson Guard, and will soon be in good working order, and the roll already more than half filled. Before the outbreak of the war, a sufficient number of volunteers doubtless will have organized themselves, so that the movement complete as to numbers. It will be seen, by reference to our advertising columns, that a call has been issued from headquarters, Tammany Hall, that the names appended to the call are a sufficient guarantee that the members of the Jackon Guard will be completely equipped, as announced by Colonel William B. Kennedy and will be brought off to its class in the country, as it is to be thoroughly drilled and equipped for service in extraordinary and out-of-the-ordinary circumstances, and will be able to do anything serviceable. The Maine rifle, with sword bayonet, and revolver will be the principal weapons.

MOVEMENTS OF TRANSPORTS, ETC.

The steamer Duss left the Navy Yard yesterday morning and proceeded to pier No. 9 North river to receive coal. She has been thoroughly overhauled, braced, &c., and is ready to start. The steamships Atlantic and Bienville, which arrived on Wednesday, are now coaling. The Augusta, Florida, Alabama, De Soto, Marlborough, James Adger and Rosalie are all ready, with the exception of the Star of the South, with the Twenty-ninth (Irish) regiment, still remains in the stream.

The United States steam transport Star of the South, having on board the Twenty-eighth regiment, under command of Major-General Smith, sailed for Europe, after completing her trip, on Saturday afternoon, May 21, at noon. A company of the Thirtieth regiment that came aboard on the last trip of the Marine accommodation ship, the Twenty-first regiment, and will join their regiment at Annapolis.

UNION DEFENCE FUND.

The following additional subscriptions were received:

May 2.—

Harrison Battelle Co $1,000 Joseph Van Antwerp..... 75
P..... 6 Joseph Bridgman..... 100
Unassigned Stern..... 8 Robert Dillon..... 100
Subscriptions received..... 100 75
TREBORER DEHON, Treasurer.

INTERESTING REPORTS FROM THE SOUTH AND WEST.

Baltimore, Md., May 2, 1861.
F Pensacola arrives before the 24th of April say that the Confederate troops are working day and night on the batteries. Two companies had just arrived from New Orleans, and were erecting three gun batteries for the defence of Pensacola.

Galveston (Texas) dates of the 25th April say that the military preparations are going on throughout Texas. Ben. McCulloch's regiments for the frontier were being mustered into service.

San Antonio dates are to the 25th of April. Batteries here being erected at Galveston, Forts Bliss and Quitman, and were soon to be paraded by Texan troops.

Fifteen hundred volunteers had been enrolled at Galveston in four days, and one thousand more from the country had offered their services.

The President of the Republic says that the army does not belong to a Company any longer need take the oath to support the government and sit it ranks.

A Major General Dockner, Commander-in-Chief of the Kentucky militia, has had a conference with Colonel Prentiss, commander of the forces at Cairo.

There is much excitement at Paducah, Kentucky, and military companies are constantly drilling. Four pieces of artillery had been received there from Nashville.

It is understood that the Governor of Tennessee has made a demand upon the Governor of Illinois for the arms and munitions taken from the steamer Hullan.

The boat has since been given to the owners and taken Paducah.

The war feeling is very high at Nashville. Several companies are drilling day and night.

Twenty four pounders and a considerable number of guns are stationed at Columbus, Kentucky. The town carefully guarded against strangers closely watched. The boats attack from the north, and the boats are land-

The steamer Julius H. Smith straggled by Cairo and landed four hundred and fifty Ohio's rifles at Paducah.

D. D. H. Poirer, Collector at this port, forwarded his resignation to Washington yesterday.

NEW JERSEY AND THE WAR.

TRUNKTON, N. Y., May 2, 1861.

The Legislative committees have been busily engaged perfecting bills to carry into effect the recommendations of the Board. This morning, in the Assembly, a Committee on Judiciary reported a bill for a loan of $1,000,000, bearing six per cent interest, and appropriating it for the purpose of defense and to support the militia called into service. The bill was ordered to be tested.

In the Senate joint resolutions were ordered to a third reading defining the unauthorized purpose to stand by the Union and sustain the general government.

The bills to authorize Newark to borrow $100,000, and Trenton to borrow $10,000 to aid the families of soldiers, have been passed, and a bill enabling counties to borrow money for the same purpose, was made the special order for Tuesday.

All the members of the House held a caucus today, to agree upon the action necessary. The meeting was closed.

The trouble referred to yesterday regarding the Commissary Department, was by the Second (Indiana) Regiment, not the First (New York) regiment, as reported.

THE LOYALTY OF DELAWARE.

WASHINGTON, May 2—T. F. M.

There is no doubt about the loyalty of Wilmington. The American flag is flying everywhere. Dupont's powder mills are so well guarded that even an attack upon them is impossible. The National Guards of Wilmington left for Philadelphia late afternoon to be mustered into service.

THE MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

Boston, May 2, 1861.

An extra session of the Legislature is contemplated tomorrow. A resolution was voted this afternoon.

Preparations are to be made to send ten thousand untrained recruits into camp.

There is a bitter animosity here against Baltimoreans.

NEW YORK.

SIRACUSE, N. Y., May 2, 1861.

To-day is a gala day for SIRACUSE. The streets have scarcely ever been so full of people. The Oneida regiment, ten full companies, 800 men, under command of Colonel Williams, left for Port Jervis for their rendezvous at West Point.

The public enthusiasm is wrought up to the highest pitch. The celebration of the 15th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, next year, by special train Canada.

CORWATOWN, N. Y., May 2, 1861.

A company of volunteers, ninety strong, from Duane County, Lawrence county, left for Albany to-day.

Oswego, May 2, 1861.

Two companies of Oswego Volunteers, Captains K. M. Fisher and Frank Miller, will start from here at eight o'clock to march for Elmira. The companies are chiefly composed of well-drilled professional men from the city.

Three additional companies are forming. At Oswego, N. Y.